

SPONSORSHIP WITH

Cambridge Forums

Since 2016, Brunswick has been a returning exclusive sponsor of a number of Cambridge Forums. Beginning with one forum and growing to three in recent years we have worked alongside each other to create unique, peer-to-peer experiences, which have helped Brunswick enhance and build new client relationships.

FORUM SPONSOR SINCE 2016

Brunswick Group

Brunswick is a strategic advisory firm focused on critical issues. Their purpose is to help the great value-creating organizations of the world play a more successful role in society.

From financial situations through to capital markets, crisis, cyber, employee engagement, and litigation, clients rely on Brunswick for insight, advice, planning, preparedness, and campaigns.

Participating in the Cambridge Forums allows Brunswick to speak to their areas of expertise – the critical issues at the center of business, politics, and society – to an audience of highly cultivated professionals.

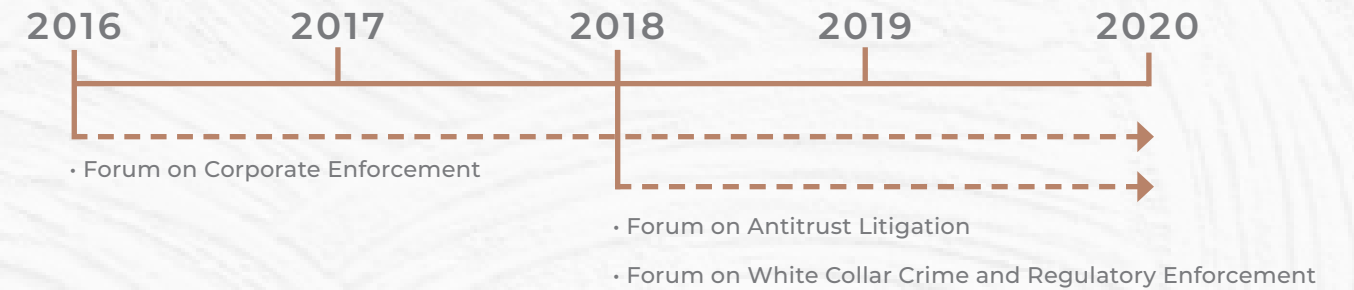

Learn more about Brunswick’s areas of expertise at brunswickgroup.com

WHY THEY SPONSOR

A unique opportunity

Brunswick returns as a sponsor each year because our forums connect those at the peak of their profession. We foster genuine interactions and spontaneous connections and are renowned for creating environments where businesses like Brunswick can enhance their profile and position as the leading choice for our participants.

“Unlike many conferences that purport to offer intimate gatherings and opportunities to connect meaningfully with leading practitioners, the Forum really delivers. The sponsorship was well worth the investment for that reason alone...”

Kevin Bailey
Partner

“Working with Cambridge Forums is always seamless and enables us to deliver a high quality, personalized brand experience directly to our target audience.”

Christina Trester
Marketing